

Corporate Clarity[®] Consultant

Katherine Hart, Ed.D. is the President of ClearVision Consulting, Inc., a global company that specializes in accelerating organizational effectiveness and improving human performance. She partners with leaders to illumine the fog of complexity and catalyze initiatives that result in sustainable change. Her knowledge and real world expertise combined with her interactive presentation style has made her a sought-after speaker nationwide.

“Excellent pointers with a great sense of humor make this session a must.”

-Ralph Hochstein, J.D., VP of American Express Financial Advisors Personal Trust

Her speeches are engaging because she brings “real-life” stories and examples of changing some of the most deeply embedded and rooted cultures. With broad industry knowledge and having spoken to highly diverse audiences, she can adapt her presentation to fit your audience needs. Her most memorable experience, speaking to a Mandarin audience and learning the translator only spoke Cantonese.

“Loved your presentation ... great sense of humor and solid content.”

- Joanne Black, Founder of No More Cold Calling

Tapping into her vast knowledge of group dynamics and adult learning, Kathy actively involves the audience to accelerate learning and knowledge retention. Attendees walk away with clear ideas for how to take immediate action and realize measurable results.

“Kathy really made me think about our company culture and what I would like to do to improve it.”

- Roy Herman, General Manager, MaryAnn's Baking Co., Inc.

Katherine's doctoral degree in organization and leadership was forged in the capital and jungles of Laos. In 2012 she was honored by ASSE Women in Safety Engineering as one of the top '100 Women, Making a Difference in Safety.' She has held an appointment as adjunct professor at the National Hispanic University on topics of project management, organizational change and behavior. She is a professional member of the National Speaker's Association.
